Essential Instructions for Practice

A Poem Left by Dharma Master Dayu for His Eldest Daughter Yizhuang in 1940

Contents

Essential Instructions for Practice

Essential Instructions for Practice

In quiescence, illuminate; in illumination, remain quiescent. Above all, do not strain.

There is no other secret to becoming a Buddha or a patriarch.