Preface

Teacher Qi Zhijun encountered the Buddhadharma in the 1980s and immediately accepted it with faith. He later studied the Heart-of-Heart Dharma under Master Yuanyin. In 1990, at the elder master's instruction, he began bestowing empowerment and transmitting the Dharma to students. After Master Yuanyin passed away, he moderated an online Heart-of-Heart Dharma forum under the screen name "LVM," answering students' questions according to their needs and capacities and helping them let go of attachments and free themselves from bondage. His two books, Sawing Open a Steelyard Weight and Selected Gems from the Mind Altar, were published and distributed by Religious Culture Press.
